Invite Bankers From Counties Around For Tour

Expect 75 Lawrence County
Men To Participate
In Trip

SCHEDULE OF VISITS IS BEING PREPARED

Seventy-five officers and directors of banks throughout this county have already signified their intentions of participating in the first annual tour of Lawrence county farms to be conducted on Wednesday, September 18 under the auspices of the Lawrence County Bankers' association. H. R. McCulloch, county farm agent who is assisting the bankers announced today.

Tentative arrangements call for the party to leave the county farm bureau office on Croton avenue at 1 o'clock daylight savings time on the afternoon of September 18. Farm stops are being mapped out, but this morning Mr. McCulloch said that plans for the visits were too indefinite to announce. However a complete schedule will be made known shortly.

With C. P. Cloak, vice president of the First National Bank of Ellwood City and the chairman of the Lawrence County Bankers' association, Agriculture committee, Agri. McCulloch has completed arrangements whereby the trip will be concluded with a dinner and program at the Big Beaver Grange hall.

H. C. Nisley, assistant director of agriculture extension work at the Pennsylvania State college, an expert in his line, will be the speaker. At that time his subject will be "The Agricultural Situation."

Bankers from neighboring counties as well as county farm agents from districts nearby have been invited to accompany the Lawrence county group on the tour. It is expected that most of them will accept.

Included among those asked to join the party are W. S. McKay of Greenville, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Pennsylvania Bankers' association; A. M. Johnston of Freeport, chairman of the agriculture committee of Group Eight of the Pennsylvania Bankers' association; E. B. Harshaw of Grove City, past president of the Pennsylvania Bankers' association; T. D. Harrington of Pittsburgh; C. A. Sweeney of Pittsburgh; Ross M. Gridley, farm agent of Beaver county; W. W. Potts of Beaver Falls and E. B. Reed of Mercer.

An example of the extent to which the automobile has replaced the horse was revealed here the other day when a man brought a horse to the shop of Bill Marquis to be shod. Instead of riding the nag in or leading it it was hauled to the shop in a motor truck. The horse was being taken to the Mercer farm.

The only idea of the New Castle News in assisting the move is to save for future generations the exotic beauty of the Slippery Rock valley. To guarantee to boys and girls to come the right to enjoy the great outdoors at a spot where nature has been almost extravagant in providing beauty.

His insinuation that The News is interested in some competing power company, or that it is servile to the interests of the power trust is just so much balderdash. When the article was written, The News did not know who was asking for the charter, nor did it care. The persons or companies interested in seeing up the power rights on the Slippery Rock were not known until today. Further, this is not a matter of personalities, but of principle.

No power development project is planned at present; no industries need what little additional power the Slippery Rock creek could give, but if the time ever came when the needs of industry were such that the Slippery Rock creek was needed, the citizens of this county would cheerfully sacrifice some of the scenic beauty to the greater good of industrial developments, we are certain.

Protests Gaining

In the meantime you are urged to come in to The News and sign a protest against this promotional scheme which would sew up the banks on each side of the Slippery Rock. In a day or so hundreds of protests will be circulated throughout Lawrence county, but the faster citizens come in to The News, the faster the protests will grow.

had been suffering from a serious disease. He had been treated for this by doctors in Cleveland, Marquette, O., Grand Rapids, Mich., Parkersburg, W. Va., Hot Springs, Ark., and Dayton, O.

Raising Defense Fund

The defense felt that it could not safely go to trial without the testimony of at least some of these physicians and for various reasons it had been impossible to get any of them. One of the reasons was financial. He said that in order to get the doctors here it would be necessary to pay them for their time and expenses. Seavers did not have the money to do this, but his friends are raising a defense fund.

It was also stated that there are at least four witnesses in Cleveland who are familiar with Seavers' condition, but that all four of them are now in the hospital and could not be secured for the present term of court.

Auto Is Held

In regard to finances Myers stated that Seavers had paid the funeral expenses for his wife, which left him with but very little money. His Packard automobile is tied up here at a local garage, being held as evidence, the being better held in it. The machine, he said, sold for about $2100, but there was $1200 against it. He hoped to realize some money for it. Seavers, he said, had given him a diamond ring, which an organization to which he belonged in Cleveland, was going to raffie off in order to raise money for the trial. Seavers said that he had only received $84 and that Logan had not received anything, but they were sold on the case and were willing to go ahead, even if they did not receive any more.

"However," said he, "we feel that if we are compelled to go to trial at this term of court, we will be helpless, as it will be impossible for us to get the men here who know anything about the condition of Seavers. We feel that they should be here to show the physical and mental conditions of Seavers."

SENATE DEBATES VARE SEATING IN SESSION TODAY

Vare not entitled to a senatorial seat, announced he was not filibustering. He even called the attention of Republican leaders to the fact that Vare's ouster would result in the appointment of a Republican senator from Pennsylvania, who would vote for high protection.

Administration leaders were rallying to support of a motion made by Senator Watson (R) of Indiana, minority leader, postponing action on the case until Dec. 3. It was rumored that a number of Democrats would desert the coalition and join the administration forces in supporting Watson's motion and Republican chiefs were confident of winning. The vote however will give no resolution of senatorial sentiment toward Vare, since his ultimate ouster is conceded by both sides.

The coalition leaders meanwhile were well satisfied with their conduct of the tariff wars. They won a victory in the opening clash, when the senate voted 51 to 2 for reaching publicity on the income tax returns of corporations or firms, protesting under the tariff law. The senate finance committee was directed to secure the desired information from the secretary of the treasury, including "profits or losses," production costs, labor costs and sums spent in salaries by persons, whose business is affected by the tariff.

Stiff Battle

This initial tariff vote showed little except that the Republican organization will have a stiff battle at all times to maintain a majority on important questions. The publicity maneuvers while launched by Democrats gained considerable Republican support, a number of usually standard Republicans and all the independent voters with the solid Democratic ranks.

Senators like Steiwer, Ore., Vandenberg, Mich., and Thomas, Ida., voted with their more independent colleagues. McNary, Couzens and Borah.

On the other hand Senators Capper, Kas., Glenn, Ill., and Robinson, Ind., voted for publicity, although their colleagues, Allen, Denver, and Watson voted against it. The Democrats showed a united front.

Spent Too Much Money

All tariff discussion was halted pending a decision in the Vare case. This matter first came before the senate in May, 1928, and has been pending ever since. The Reed Slush Fund Committee, specially created to investigate the Pennsylvania Bankers' association, subsequently held that Vare was not entitled to his seat because of "fraud and corruption" by his organization and the expenditure of $750,000 in his primary campaign.

When Vare after winning the election in November 1928, appeared to take the oath of office in the following March, the senate denied him that privilege. Subsequently William B. Wilson, the defeated Democrat, contested Vare's election and that contest still is pending before the senate committee on privileges and elections. While the latter committee probably will report that Vare won the election honestly, that question will not be involved in the efforts to oust him because of his primary expenditures.

had been suffering from a serious disease. He had been treated for this by doctors in Cleveland, Marquette, O., Grand Rapids, Mich., Parkersburg, W. Va., Hot Springs, Ark., and Dayton, O.

Raising Defense Fund

The defense felt that it could not safely go to trial without the testimony of at least some of these physicians and for various reasons it had been impossible to get any of them. One of the reasons was financial. He said that in order to get the doctors here it would be necessary to pay them for their time and expenses. Seavers did not have the money to do this, but his friends are raising a defense fund.

It was also stated that there are at least four witnesses in Cleveland who are familiar with Seavers' condition, but that all four of them are now in the hospital and could not be secured for the present term of court.

Auto Is Held

In regard to finances Myers stated that Seavers had paid the funeral expenses for his wife, which left him with but very little money. His Packard automobile is tied up here at a local garage, being held as evidence, the being better held in it. The machine, he said, sold for about $2100, but there was $1200 against it. He hoped to realize some money for it. Seavers, he said, had given him a diamond ring, which an organization to which he belonged in Cleveland, was going to raffie off in order to raise money for the trial. Seavers said that he had only received $84 and that Logan had not received anything, but they were sold on the case and were willing to go ahead, even if they did not receive any more.

"However," said he, "we feel that if we are compelled to go to trial at this term of court, we will be helpless, as it will be impossible for us to get the men here who know anything about the condition of Seavers. We feel that they should be here to show the physical and mental conditions of Seavers."

Vare not entitled to a senatorial seat, announced he was not filibustering. He even called the attention of Republican leaders to the fact that Vare's ouster would result in the appointment of a Republican senator from Pennsylvania, who would vote for high protection.

Administration leaders were rallying to support of a motion made by Senator Watson (R) of Indiana, minority leader, postponing action on the case until Dec. 3. It was rumored that a number of Democrats would desert the coalition and join the administration forces in supporting Watson's motion and Republican chiefs were confident of winning. The vote however will give no resolution of senatorial sentiment toward Vare, since his ultimate ouster is conceded by both sides.

The coalition leaders meanwhile were well satisfied with their conduct of the tariff wars. They won a victory in the opening clash, when the senate voted 51 to 2 for reaching publicity on the income tax returns of corporations or firms, protesting under the tariff law. The senate finance committee was directed to secure the desired information from the secretary of the treasury, including "profits or losses," production costs, labor costs and sums spent in salaries by persons, whose business is affected by the tariff.

Stiff Battle

This initial tariff vote showed little except that the Republican organization will have a stiff battle at all times to maintain a majority on important questions. The publicity maneuvers while launched by Democrats gained considerable Republican support, a number of usually standard Republicans and all the independent voters with the solid Democratic ranks.

Senators like Steiwer, Ore., Vandenberg, Mich., and Thomas, Ida., voted with their more independent colleagues. McNary, Couzens and Borah.

On the other hand Senators Capper, Kas., Glenn, Ill., and Robinson, Ind., voted for publicity, although their colleagues, Allen, Denver, and Watson voted against it. The Democrats showed a united front.

Spent Too Much Money

All tariff discussion was halted pending a decision in the Vare case. This matter first came before the senate in May, 1928, and has been pending ever since. The Reed Slush Fund Committee, specially created to investigate the Pennsylvania Bankers' association, subsequently held that Vare was not entitled to his seat because of "fraud and corruption" by

MacDonald's Trip To United States Mooted Question

Premier Ramsay MacDonald
Wants To Visit America,
But Seeks Naval Accord

AGREEMENT IS NOT IN SIGHT

Tentative Bookings Made For British Premier On Liner
Berengaria

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald's proposed visit to Washington next month apparently hinges today upon the amount of progress that can be attained in the negotiations for an Anglo-American naval agreement.

In the present impasse can be deduced the British Premier probably will come to the United States in the near future. Meanwhile the negotiations have been taken to make tentative arrangements for him on the Berengaria, which arrives in New York on Oct. 4.

Would Be Mistake
Administration officials feel that it would be a mistake for MacDonald to come to the United States.

What About Ability?
It is an easy thing to say that a candidate is fitted for an office. His friends are sincere in their belief that he is fitted for the office, but friendship sometimes blinds one to the worth of a man.
Public officers should be selected, not because they are "good fellows", not because they are "good mixers", not because they have charming personalities but because they can do the job.
WILLIAM G. FLEMING is fitted for the office of sheriff. His work as County Detective bespeaks his ability to be the sheriff.
Let's vote for ability this time, instead of personalities.
If you do, your vote for sheriff will be for William G. Fleming.

"Miss America"

Miss Lillian Andrus, 18-year-old beauty from Columbus, O., is "Miss America of 1920" with her coronation. She was chosen at Baltimore, recently, but Miss Ruth Burnham, of Cleveland, also claims the title. Miss Andrus was not officially entered in the contest which in past years has been held at Atlantic City.

Washington who has not had the experience of going into some bureau of some department looking for information. That bureau refers him to another. The second refers to a third and the third to a fourth and in the end he may be referred back to the very place from which he started.

If you want information from the Commerce Department you can go to an information section over which presides Mr. Blank. You tell Mr. Blank what you want. He sends you to the man who has the information and you get it.

That is the difference between fixed and indefinite responsibility, the difference between organization and hit or miss methods, the difference between efficiency and chaos. The difference has cost the taxpayers billions and will cost them billions more, if not corrected.

Not only does Mr. Hoover know what he wants but he knows the difficulty of getting it. Those difficulties are well summarized in a speech he made a few years ago. He said, discussing the various reorganization programs that have been put forward:

"But practically every single item in such a program has invariably met with opposition of some vested official or it has disturbed some vested habit, and offended some organized minority. It has aroused the paid propagandists. All these vested officials, vested habits, organized propaganda groups are in favor of every item of reorganization except that which affects the bureau or the activity in which they are specially interested. No proposed change is so unimportant that it is not bitterly opposed by someone. In the aggregate these directors of vested habits surround Congress with a confusing fog of opposition. Meantime the incoherent voice of the public gets nowhere but to swear at 'bureaucracy'!"

Mother Finds Son Dead By Bedside

Charles Lewis Morrow, Aged 57,
Is Found By His Mother
Who Is 78

Charles Lewis Morrow, aged 57, of 722 East Reynolds street, was found dead by the side of his bed on the third floor of his home about 10 o'clock this morning. Discovery of the body was made by his mother, Mrs. Mary Morrow, aged 78, who was alone in the house at the time.

Mrs. Morrow called her daughter, Mrs. Mary McVay who is employed uptown and also a physician. The doctor found that Morrow had been dead for some time and notified Coroner J. P. Caldwell.

According to the story told Coroner Caldwell, by Mrs. McVay, her brother was sitting in the kitchen of their home when she retired about 11 o'clock last night. Mr. Morrow slept on the third floor. He was heard to go to his room soon after. About 4 o'clock this morning some members of the family heard a noise which it is now believed was caused by Morrow's falling out of bed, but which was thought to have been outside at the time.

When he was found he was lying face downward by the side of the bed, which was nearest a wall, there being about two feet of space between the bed and the wall. Position of the body indicated that he had not moved after falling.

Mr. Morrow had been in poor health for some time, suffering with hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure. He had last worked on a farm near Westfield, N. Y., but came home last April, since which time he had been unable to do anything. It is believed that his death was due to a stroke.

Decayed was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Morrow. He was born near West Sunbury, Butler county but had been a resident of New Castle for a number of years. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Morrow, one sister Mrs. Mary McVay and one brother Lawrence A. Morrow of 722 Reynolds street.

Time of funeral will be announced later.
Butler papers please copy.

Whence and Why the Rumors?

Have you as yet been confidentially informed of the rumors and reports whispered and circulated against Jack Dunlap?

Dunlap has been the author of many a story poorly told and otherwise but makes a mighty poor witness.

Naturally Jack Dunlap has made some enemies in the active performance of his duties and politically but most of his enemies are those who have become so merely because they are enemies of law enforcement. These persons are opposing his candidacy for Sheriff.

They realize that he is very strongly supported by those citizens who favor honest, impartial and effective law enforcement and fully realize that they cannot defeat Jack Dunlap by fair means, they have sent the scandalmonger forth to weave his slimy trail back and forth across the county.

Jack Dunlap is well known to the voters of Lawrence County. They know what he stands for and what he won't stand for, and through their knowledge of him as County Detective 1922-1923 inclusive, the Sheriff campaign four years ago when he finished third in a field of nine candidates and other acquaintance, and affiliations they have had ample opportunity to form an opinion as to his character, integrity and ability.

The honest, well intentioned voter is urged to disbelieve any doubt concerning Jack Dunlap to find a logical place in their mind, and investigate, to ascertain why and what is trying so strenuously to cause his defeat or to might say investigate the character and reputation of those who are alarmed at the possibility of the election of

Fund Workers Start Campaign

New Castle Hospital Workers
Raising Fund For Institution

WORKERS WILL CANVASS CITY

Campaign for funds for the use of the New Castle hospital in meeting the expense of the increasing amount of charity work that this institution is called upon to do and to help avoid a deficit in the running of this big institution was inaugurated today by a large group of hospital workers. Individual effort and will be continued until Saturday, September 14, when it will culminate in a general tag day.

Through this general city-wide solicitation and the tag sale Saturday every citizen of New Castle and vicinity will be afforded the opportunity of assisting this institution in avoiding a deficit and able to keep on doing its ever increasing work in this community.

It is hoped that the people of the city and vicinity will be most generous, due to the fact that funds are needed in looking ahead to the construction of a new nurses home, a pressing need, because of the fifty-one nurses in training, who must be cared for and also those who are engaged in nursing at the hospital and must also be provided for. The present nurses home is altogether inadequate.

Workers Meet.
The campaign got under way at a meeting of the workers held last night in the hospital and great enthusiasm was manifested in the undertaking which is being held under the leadership of A. Green, as general chairman.

The need for funds to meet the expense of the charity work was explained. It is due to the fact that the hospital has received no funds from the state for years and also the fact that the hospital is no longer the recipient of funds from any other local or other source.

The hospital is crowded and the records of the past six months show that more charity work was done in that period than in any similar period of time since the hospital has been in existence.

Workers in the campaign will report each evening at the hospital the result of their days work. An effort will be made to reach every home, business house and industry in the city.

The workers now engaged in this campaign are as follows:

America"

"A New Discovery of America," was Dr. C. J. Williamson's theme when he spoke at noon before the New Castle Kiwanis club, of which he is a member.

In a most eloquent way Dr. Williamson recalled the different discoveries made before the time of Columbus, told to us only by tradition. Then he mentioned the actual discovery by Columbus and following this was a remarkable story of the different discoveries of America.

Dr. Williamson said that Columbus discovered America physically; George Washington discovered it politically, and Abraham Lincoln discovered it unitedly. "But there is a new discovery yet," he said, "and that must be made by us. We must discover America as a moral and spiritual force in the world."

"The moral and spiritual responsibility of the future rests with us," Rev. Williamson said that he feels we will succeed but likewise has a feeling which someone has ably described as a disinterested optimism. He pointed out that one failure of Americans today is that they fail to realize that the impossible can happen.

Bootleggers To Join Ball And Chain Gang

Elgin, Ill., Sept. 11.—A law half a century old has been dusted off by Circuit Judge Olney Allen to curb liquor law violations in Kane county.

The law provides that bootleggers and other illegal purveyors of intoxicants may be made to work out fines at the rate of $1.50 a day, and that jailers are privileged to attach balls and chains to them to prevent escape.

Judge Allen said the imposition of fines has had little effect in curtailing bootleggers, and he indicated the old law would be invoked in flagrant cases.

SIXTY-ONE of the books were purchased and 40 were donated to the library. The number of books which were discarded is 219. Forty-two books were catalogued.

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE PRESIDENT

BY CALVIN COOLIDGE

ARTICLE IV

Presidential Speeches Require Careful Thought And Painstaking Labor—An Important Part Of Duties

One of the most appalling trials which confronts a President is the perpetual clamor for public utterances. Invitations are constant and persistent. They come by wire, by mail, and by delegation. No count of importance is reckoned by any means anywhere in the United States without their insisting that he come to deliver an oration. When others are engaged in a holiday, he is expected to make a public appearance in order to entertain and instruct by a formal address. There are a few public statements that he does not deliver in person, like proclamations and messages, which go to the Congress, either reporting his views on the state of the Union in his Annual Message or giving his reasons for vetoing legislation in a veto. These productions vary in length. My Annual Message would be about 12,000 words. My speeches would average a little over 3,000 words. In the course of a year the entire number reaches about twenty, which probably represents an output of at least 75,000 words.

This kind of work is very exacting. It requires the most lucid and extended research and study, and the most careful and painstaking thought. Each word has to be weighed in the realization that it is a Presidential utterance which will be dissected at home and abroad to discover its outward meaning and any possible hidden implications. Before each address was finished it was thoroughly examined by one or two of my staff, and oftentimes by a member of the Cabinet. It was not difficult for me to deliver an address. The difficulty lay in its preparation. This is an important part of the work of a President which he cannot escape. It is inherent in the office.

White House Pets

A great many presents come to the White House, which are all cherished, not so much for their intrinsic value as because they are tokens of esteem and affection. Almost everything that can be eaten comes. We always knew what to do with that. But some of the pets that were offered us were more of a problem. I had a beautiful black-haired bear that was brought all the way from Mexico in a truck, and a pair of lion cubs now grown up, and a small species of hippopotamus which came from South Africa. These and other animals and birds have been placed in the zoological quarters in Rock Creek Park. We always had more dogs than we could take care of. My favorites were the white collies, which became so much associated with me that they are enshrined in my bookplate, where they will live as long as our country endures. One of them, Prudence Prim, was especially attached to Mrs. Coolidge. We lost her in the Black Hills. She lies out there in the shadow of Bear Butte, where the Indians told me the Great Spirit came to commune with his children. One was my companion, Rob Roy. He was a stately gentleman of great courage and fidelity. He loved to back from the second-story windows and around the south grounds. Nights he remained in my room and afterwards went with me to the office. His special delight was to ride with me in the boats when I went fishing. So, although I knew he would back for joy as the grim boatman ferried him across the dark waters of the Styx, yet his going left me lonely on the higher shore.

As I left office I realized that the more I had seen of the working of the Federal Government, the more respect I came to have for it. It is carried on by hundreds of thousands of people, some prove incompetent. A very few are tried to become disloyal to their trust. But the great rank and file of them are of good ability, conscientious and faithful public servants. While some are paid more than they would earn in private life, great throngs are serving at a distinct personal sacrifice. Among the higher officials this is almost always true. The service they perform entitles them to approbation and honor.

Senator Has Most Laborious Job Of All Public Officials

The Congress has sometimes been a sore trial to Presidents. I did not find it so. Among its members were men of wonderful ability and unusual experience. I think they made their decisions with an honest purpose to serve their country. The membership of the Senate changed very much by reason of those who sacrificed themselves for public duty. Of the duties of all public officials with whom I have ever been acquainted the work of a Senator of the United States is by far the most laborious. About twenty of them died during the eight years I was in Washington. Sometimes it would seem for a day that either the House or the Senate had taken some unwise action, but if it was not corrected on the floor where it occurred, it was usually remedied in the other chamber. I always found the members of both parties willing to confer with me and disposed to treat my recommendations fairly. Most of the differences could be adjusted by personal discussion.

Sometimes I made an appeal direct to the country by stating my position at the newspaper conferences. I adopted that course in relation to the Mississippi flood control bill. As it passed the Senate, it appeared to be much too extravagant in its scale of damages and its proposed remedy. The press began a vigorous discussion of the subject, which caused the House to modify the bill, and in conference a measure that was entirely fair and moderate was adopted. On other occasions I appealed to the country more privately, enlisting the influence of labor and trade organizations upon the Congress in behalf of some measure in which I was interested. That was done in the case of the tax bill of 1928. As it passed the House, the reductions were so large that the revenue necessary to meet the public expenses would not have been furnished. By quietly making this known to the Senate and enlisting support for that position among its constituents, it was possible to secure such a modification of the measure that it could be adopted without greatly endangering the revenue.

But a President cannot, with success, constantly appeal to the country. After a time he will get no response. The people have their own affairs to look after and cannot give much attention to what the Congress is doing. If he takes a position, and stands by it, ultimately it will be adopted. Most of the policies set out in my first Annual Message have become law, but it took several years to get action on some of them.

Making Appointments A Perplexing Yet Important Function
One of the most perplexing and at the same time most important functions of the President is the making of appointments. In some few cases he acts alone, but usually they are made with the advice and consent of the Senate. It is the practice to consult Senators of his own party before making an appointment from their respective states. In choosing persons for service over the whole or any considerable portion of a single state, it is customary to rely almost entirely on the party. Senators from Coolidge in his next article, "Is the product of men in public life who have been twice spoiled. They have been spoiled with abuse." But that is the mind the President must deal with if he is to get results. In this further exposition of the Presidential office, Mr. Coolidge also explains why that office has risen in popular estimation, while the Congress, he says, has declined.

Believe Low Point Reached In Demand For Steel Products

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—While backlogs continue to shrink, evidences of a revival in railroad buying indicate that the low point in the demand for steel may have been passed, the Iron Age will say tomorrow in its weekly review of the iron and steel trade.

Fully 400,000 tons are expected to come into the market through demand by railroads before the end of the present month, the magazine will say. However, it was pointed out, the extent of the increase cannot be estimated and "these developments have come too late to prevent a further decline in steel works output."

No Rush Evident
There has been no rush on the part of steel consumers to place fourth quarter contracts, the Iron Age will say. "Although mills have actually opened their books at unchanged prices or have indicated a willingness, in many cases, to extend present quotations into the next quarter, their customers prefer to await developments. Both sellers and buyers are apparently leaning for advantage pending a test of the market."

During the current week steel ingot production slipped from 85 to 86 per cent, the magazine states, with some of the smaller companies running as low as 80 per cent. Pig iron users are continuing to buy conservatively, while scrap is dull, reflecting the uncertainty of operations.

Although the Iron Age composite prices are unchanged at $18.25 for pig iron and 2.38 cents a pound for finished steel, heavy melting steel at Pittsburgh has declined for the second week to $19.35 a ton, the magazine concludes.

Famous Beauty Expert Tells Secret Of Lovely Hands

MRS. PEARL ECKER HUBBELL

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Mrs. Pearl Ecker Hubbell, dean of the National School of Cosmeticians, advises women on keeping their hands exquisitely white and smooth.

She says: "For women in their homes I can think of no better aid in protecting their hands than the use of Lux suds in all cleaning and dishwashing."

"In selecting the best soap for use in maintaining your hands as gentle as the hands, we use just a few of the delicate Lux flakes to make a bowlful of pure, sparkling suds. Lux suds cleanse so gently and soothe the skin, keep the hands beautifully white and smooth."

"Ordinary soaps may roughen and chafe and age the hands, make them look prematurely old. Lux is so pure, so gentle, that it never irritates or roughens the skin, never dries up its delicate oils."

"Therefore I can't imagine finer beauty care for the hands of the house-maker than Lux suds in the dishpan."

CHOPPED OFF

DUBOIS, Pa., Sept. 11.—County authorities were to examine John Slidock, alias John Salabau, today, following his arrest for the brutal murder of George H. Cohan, 65, a junk dealer of this place. The prisoner has been lodged without bail in the Clearfield county jail at Clearfield.

Slidock admitted attacking his employer with a short handled ax, beating him into insensibility then chopping off his head when he saw the body guard. Cohan, 65, was a junk dealer of this place. The prisoner has been lodged without bail in the Clearfield county jail at Clearfield.

"He had two hearts, so I had to kill him twice," Slidock told authorities when questioned. His garbled account of the killing strengthened the theory he is insane. Snyder had told friends he was afraid of the man because he believed him crazy.

Victim Decapitated
The murderer came to Dubois three months ago and had been living with Snyder for six weeks. According to a story gathered from neighbors and from some of the things Slidock told, Cohan was killed with a blow on the head. Then the other man walked away, believing his victim dead, but as the body guard saw a lay face downward on a pile of ashes Slidock came back and deliberately decapitated Snyder.

The trap shooters who made the capture turned the man over to police here.

One way to settle this war over a railroad between Russia and China would be to give one of them a character to run a motor-bus line. — The Battle Daily Post.

Bo-Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—When prohibition sent the old Waldorf bar, of happy memory, into the land of the mistletoe cup and the wooden Indian, the hotel cut up its defunct irrigation bureau into small shops that catered to exclusive trade.

When the wreckers began the formal work of converting the stately red pile into a moldy memory, most of the small shop proprietors packed up and got out. Some took advantage of an extra few days until the wreckers should come directly overhead. The two or three who stayed soon found themselves with neighbors—little fly-by-night merchants who had moved into the shops vacated by the others to pick up a stray penny or two.

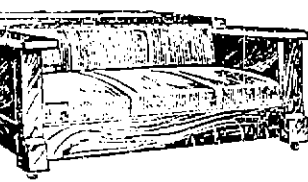

Notice came recently that they'd all have to be out by a certain day, and the small shop proprietors, advising the public, The few old-time shops went down with colors flying. Amid the turmoil of crashing steel and stone, splintering beams and crumbling masonry, their farewell notices were chaste and proper as the pastor's pews, quite in contrast to the announcements of the fly-by-nights, who blazoned the termination of their ephemeral stay in standard letters of many hues. One such sign read: "Down and Out. The Building's coming Down. We're on our way Out!"

GEORGE COHAN'S
STILL ON TOP
No better showman than George Cohan ever lived. He's getting old now. His hair is whitening rapidly—nature's gentle reminder that winter's round the corner. But he's the same genial gentleman that ever he was. He looks on life with a level, intelligent eye, always the wing of a vagrant smile brushing the corners of his mouth.

He's been "quitting" the show business regularly for the last 10 years in the way the Lads of the Old Line always "quit"—that is, walking out and slamming the door in the morning and slipping in by the rear gate at candle light time. George Cohan could no more resist the lure of the smell of grease paint when eight o'clock at night comes rolling around, than he could turn an impetuous friend down. So, with all his brave blustering talk about "quitting" he's back on Broadway at the opening of the new season with a knockout of a little show that he wrote and is producing himself, and in which he plays the principal role.

"Gambling" is really one of George's achievements. It's a mystery play that keeps the Sophisticates glued to their seats for two hours. And every night when it's all over he has to step out and take eight or nine curtain calls. This is just sentimental appreciation on my part. George and I grew up together on Broadway, when Broadway was "Broadway". And it's good to see him still on the crest of the wave, swimming just as strong as ever, and having a mighty good time.

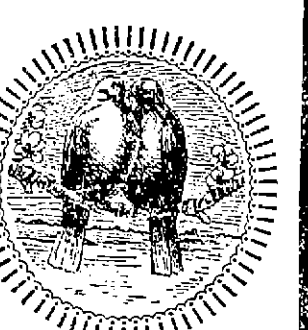

A TIP TO COHAN
There's just one little slip in "Gambling". Mr. Cohan has a police inspector in the play who, in the course of a telephone conversation holds the mousetrap of the instrument against his chest so that the person he is supposed to be talking to at the other end of the wire cannot

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS,
Editor, The Farm Journal for Central Press.

Whenever the problem of agriculture is discussed—and that is very often among people who take an interest in serious matters—the question of mass production is pretty sure to come up. It is almost certain to be suggested by those who have observed the manufacture of automobiles, or steel, or electric current and who have their eyes fixed on the extraordinary cheapness with which such things can be produced, using automatic machines and the highest type of scientific management.

To such people the production of food and fibres by individual farmers in six and a quarter million small farm factories is an economic crime. They are certain that such inefficiency an waste should not be allowed to exist.

Why cannot farming do likewise? Or rather will it not be necessary to force farmers to make such a reorganization of their business? It is very difficult and complex problem in economics. And since books can be written about it I can hardly go into it deeply in this column.

It is enough to say that no experiment that has been tried up to now has been a financial success. Every large "corporation farm" in the words of a famous economist, either has failed or is about to fail. Apparently the chief reason for failure has been, that no considerable number of hired employees will put in the same hard work and whole-souled effort that an individual farmer puts into his farm. And this piles up wages for labor so high as to offset the naturalization of the gains from intelligent management and machine equipment.

Furthermore the prices of farm products like all other commodities in the open market, are regulated by the cost of production of the least efficient farmer who is able to stay in the business. And these prices are as a rule too low to allow the "corporation farm" to make expenses. On the other hand, some new ideas are being tried out here and there, notably what is called "chain farm-

ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION

for All The People

Twenty-one years ago, when the Model T was first made, and again in December, 1927, when the new Ford was introduced, the policy of the Ford Motor Company was announced in these words—

"We will build a motor car for the great multitude. It will be large enough for the family, but small enough for the individual to run and care for. It will be constructed of the best materials, by the best men to be hired, after the simplest designs that modern engineering can devise. But it will be so low in price that no man making a good wage will be unable to own one."

MORE than seventeen million Ford automobiles have been made since this announcement was first printed. The passing years have brought many changes—in appearance—in performance—in manner of manufacture. But there is one thing that has never changed—the fundamental idea behind the Ford car.

The Ford Motor Company was formed, and exists today, not merely to make automobiles but to provide economical transportation for all the people. Far more important than the car itself is the part it plays in the lives, the happiness, and the prosperity of millions of people.

Before the Ford was introduced the automobile was considered more or less as an expensive toy, for only the wealthy to drive. There was no conception of its uses and possibilities as we know them today. It was accepted in much the same manner that the airplane was accepted five years ago. Great emphasis was placed upon its racing speed and very little upon its practical utility.

With the coming of the Ford, however, it became possible for men in all walks of life to enjoy the benefits of transportation that formerly had been limited to a fortunate few.

A great change came over the country and with it a new prosperity. By freeing the movements of men, the Ford also freed their thoughts and created new opportunities. The barriers of time and distance were broken down. Good roads followed close behind the automobile and the isolation of country districts disappeared. The nation grew as people learned to use this newly developed horse-power and fit it to their needs.

Into the hands of men of moderate means—to the workers in factories—to the toilers on the farm—was given a means to increase their income and enjoy the leisure which that increased income should bring. The working day became shorter because men could do in eight hours the tasks that previously had taken ten or twelve—and do them better.

Always it should be remembered that we do not have automobiles because we are prosperous. We are prosperous because we have them.

Today, with all its improvements—with all its new beauty of line and color—with all the betterments and changes that have been made during the past twenty-one years—the Ford is still a "motor car for the great multitude."

It is not just a new automobile—not just so many mechanical parts carefully put together to run on wheels—but Progress—Achievement—a part of the very life and fabric of the nation.

Business of every kind moves forward at a faster pace because of it. To countless homes it brings the rewards of widening opportunity, happiness, and priceless hours of relaxation in the open air.

All of this not merely because of its safety, its comfort, its reliability, its speed, its acceleration, its ease of control, but because of a fundamental purpose that is greater than all of these. Because, in larger degree than ever, it provides economical transportation for all the people.

British Scientist Is Busy Figuring Out World In Year 4,000

All Flappers Will Be Bald By Year 4,000 Says Brilliant Scientist

Man Will Be Capable Of Great Thought; Mothers Can Choose Babies As To Sex And Features

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 11.—When flappers are bald and proud of it; when octopuses have given women complete equality with men; when life, rest and education are injected with an electric needle; and when the prolongation of life by artificial means will be compulsory—

"This is the dream of the future put forward by Professor A. M. Low, brilliant young British scientist and inventor, in an article on what the world will be like in the year 4,000, written for 'Armchair Science' magazine.

"Few of us imagine," says Low, "that this world is so relative that the whole force of nature will be changed in a comparatively few years' time."

Perpetual Change.
"The magic of perpetual change can perhaps be brought home by the statement that in 2,000 years the most advanced flapper of the day may wear thick glasses, false teeth, and a wig. She will be so intelligent that the wig will not be considered for a moment."

"The man of this far off tomorrow will be concerned with thought—thought with a power so great as to stagger the very imagination of the semi-savage, half-baked people whom, today, we point to as modern."

"Intermarriage will so have leveled the people of the earth that the object of the then league of nations will have approached fulfillment—war will not have been ended by these or any other means; however, for a thousand years or so is but a paltry time in the space of the universe, and war is a natural process by which civilization has been developed."

Can Pick Babies.
"The state will take a violent hand in education, in marriage and in health. I shall expect to hear mothers will be able to choose the color of their babies' hair and eyes and their sex; while the nurse of the period will gently recommend the injection of a little poetry in order to counteract the latest arrival's antipathy to whatever abomination of combined music, noise and light will have replaced the jazz band of 1929."

Low considers it more than possible that criminal tendencies will be matters of surgical interest rather than such as to create a desire for revenge. Covered in cities, streets warmed and lighted and men brilliant beyond words compared with our "dog like mentality."

These are on the list of possibilities.

Red Cross Makes Preparations For Annual Roll Call

Chairman Will Be Named For Membership Drive In County District

Preparations for the annual roll call of the Lawrence county chapter, American National Red Cross, are now under way, and it is expected that the county chairman who will have charge of the campaign will be named within the coming week.

The drive will be held during the latter part of November and a good response is anticipated. Steps will be taken to form a county-wide organization as soon as the chairman has been named. Supplies for the drive have already been ordered and are expected to arrive shortly.

The Lawrence county chapter has endeavored to assist all rural residents of the county wherever requested and has done considerable work in the rural districts during the past year.

New Act Places Additional Work On County Office

Considerable additional work has been placed upon the county commissioners' office as the result of an act of the last legislature regarding bills for persons maintained in state institutions, according to County Commissioners' Clerk W. A. Eakin.

Heretofore it has been the custom of state institutions such as hospitals, penitentiaries and workhouses to bill the county commissioners every three months. Under the new act bills are now received every month. The act reads, "All bills shall be due when rendered, and shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum unless paid within 30 days from date."

This adds considerable work to the commissioners' office as all bills must now be checked over and checks drawn monthly to avoid the interest charge.

Steam Shovel Is Down In Ravine

Big Sewer Pipes Tumble Over Steam Shovel Near Wilmington Ave.

Out near the plant of the New Castle Water company there is a 14 ton steam shovel lying on its back in a ravine and the job of getting it up and repaired is one that will take some time and money.

The reason for the shovel being in the ravine is this. The improvement of the Wilmington road meant the turning of water in Neshannock township down through the ravine near the water plant. The City of New Castle decided to install a five foot sewer in place of the 36 inch one that was there and let a contract to W. E. Ferry to lay the line.

Each of the five foot sewer pipes weighs about five tons and to swing them over the ravine from the road, the contractor decided to use his steam shovel. The weight of the pipe was too much for the shovel and it did a more or less graceful nose dive from the road down into the ravine, wrecking it.

Members of the New Castle Rotary club have at least been outdone by their wives once, and that time was just last night. The tug-of-war contest in which the men matched strength with their wives, and lost, was one of the features of the annual corn roast held Tuesday evening at Lakewood Beach.

One hundred and fifty were in attendance, and all credit for the evening's success is due Chairman J. Lee McFate and his efficient committee. Other members in charge were Frank Fisher, Rudolph Stadelhofer and Herbert Christman, who conducted the sports.

Dancing comprised the entertainment following the serving of the corn.

Four Arrested As Drunken Drivers

Epidemic Of Intoxication Is Reported By Mercer County Officials

MERCER, Pa., Sept. 11.—Even a three year jail sentence fails to intimidate county residents the jail records of today show.

Rhode Island Has Less Tuberculosis

International News Service.

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 11, Rhode Island showed a greater decline in the tuberculosis death rate since 1901 than any other New England or Middle Atlantic state, according to a survey recently completed by Dr. Harry Lee Barnes, superintendent of the state sanatorium.

The results of the investigation, published by the Rhode Island Tuberculosis association, showed that Cranston had the lowest death rate of any of the centers investigated, with Burrillville second and Warwick third. Remarkable on the fact that each of the towns showing an unusually low tuberculosis death rate is the home of a hospital for tubercular patients. Dr. Barnes pointed out that 20 years ago such a hospital was considered a menace to the community in which it was situated.

"If the dream of annual and physical examinations comes true," Dr. Barnes said, "our ability to find and save cases may be doubled."

Commenting upon the efficacy of a vaccine in treating tubercular cases, he said, "What hope have we for a cure for tuberculosis comparable in promptness and effectiveness with the anti-toxin in diphtheria? Very little, I fear, yet we are not entirely without hope that vaccine may be found which will give healing persons, and especially young children, some degree of immunity. The vaccine BCG has been given considerably in Europe, and many reports are favorable, but it is still in the experimental stage."

Summer doubles the need for this deodorizing sanitary protection

IN summer... when danger of offense is so much greater... what a relief to know that Kotex completely deodorizes! What a relief to forget old fears... to know there is no possibility of offense.

But there are other reasons why and how of women find Kotex absolutely essential in summer.

Kotex is always light, cool, comfortable. It never loses its softness. It simply cannot pack. It is so very absorbent that weight and bulk are unnecessary.

Kotex is non-detectable. The corners are rounded and tapered so no outline shows even under summer's flimsiest frocks.

Women appreciate, too, the ease with which Kotex disposes. There's no more fuss and laundering. The layers of filler can easily be adjusted as needed. Kotex brings complete sanitary comfort to summer's most trying days.

KOTEX IS SOFT...

1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. A delicate, lasting softness.

2—Safe, secure... keeps your mind at ease.

3—Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 5 times as much.

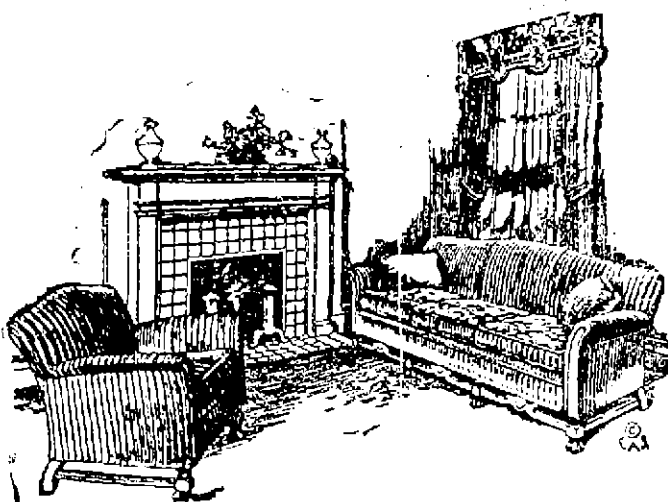

4—In hospitals... Kotex is the identical material used practically exclusively by surgeons in 87% of the country's leading hospitals.

predict the local thunderstorms which dashed the air liner against Mount Taylor. It was revealed by Col.
H. B. Hersey, in charge of the United States weather bureau here.

It was also disclosed that officials of the T. A. T. in Albuquerque knew nothing of a heavy storm which struck Grants, N. M., and Mount Taylor until Tuesday afternoon after the storm had passed and the transport plane dashed against the mountain side.

Plans are being considered by government officials and aeronautics leaders to make it possible for the weather bureau to install a sufficient number of weather observing stations along the air routes of the west to keep the planes closely informed as to approaching local storms.

Oldest Street Car Man Gets His Pick Of 'Runs'

(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Sept. 11.—The oldest street car employe in Connecticut had his day again late this summer when the Connecticut company, owners of all street transportation in the state, called for bids for "runs" from its motormen and conductors.
John Quinn, who started to drive a horse-car in 1836, had his choice of all local runs before any other man could pick a place to work in for the winter. John elected to run by the sea-shore.

here, received a possible fractured skull and other injuries. He was

State Crops Show Steady Decline In Month Of August

Severe Drought Causes Crops To Drop To Lowest Point Of Year Is Reported

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 11.—Sorely afflicted with the severe drought during August, Pennsylvania crops declined to the lowest point for the season in many years during the month, reports from the Federal State Crop
Reporting service showed today.

Only three crop totals—oats, peaches and pears—have surpassed the estimated yields for September 1 and corn, rice, buckwheat, potatoes, tobacco, hay, apples and grapes have declined in the estimated production totals.

Local showers which normally would have offset the general rain deficiency, were frequently accompanied by hail and windstorms and these added to the havoc wrought by the torrid waves.
Corn prospects are the second poorest on record with the indicated yield at 44,902,000 bushels, 15 per cent lower than the estimated 1928 production and 18 per cent lower than the estimated ten years' average. The prospective corn yield, it is stated, has dropped five bushels per acre on the average.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The objective of the Soviet advance into Manchurian territory is believed to be the

The Bolshevik attack has now shifted from the western to the eastern front, the dispatch continues, owing to the apparent success of the Chinese defenders on the western battle line in spite of the strong force of advancing Soviet troops.
A Mukden dispatch to the Times states that Poganichnaya has suffer-

The Grand Prize for reliability in the 15-day running of the famous "Tour de France" was awarded to Essex the Challenger. The two Essex entries finished the race without a single penalty—the only cars with perfect scores—winning by a great margin over the strong field of high-priced American and European cars. . . . ## Crow Refuses To Leave Home

KITTANNING, Pa., Sept. 11.—M. F. Bowser has a pet crow that is quite an attraction among the residents of the vicinity of his home. The bird came to the Bowser home several weeks ago and refused to leave. A cage was provided for it and the bird seems to be quite at home. It has picked up several words which it speaks as well as a parrot.

I heard of a feller yesterday who fell over fifty feet and wasn't bad hurt, as he was makin' his way out of a crowded street car.

If Your Stomach Torments You Do This For Quick Relief!

Most digestive suffering is due to "too much acid" in the stomach causing gas, heartburn, stomach pain and other distressing symptoms. By taking a little Bisulphated Magnesia after eating or whenever pain is felt, you promptly remove the cause of the trouble. Bisulphated Magnesia neutralizes excess acid instantly. The digestive organs are soothed, healed and strengthened in a wonderful way, and normal healthy digestion results. Because it is so quick, so safe, so sure in ending digestive troubles, doctors recommend Bisulphated Magnesia, and thousands use it all over the civilized world. There is no better indigestion remedy and food corrective. You can get it in either powder or tablet at the nearest good drug store. If your stomach troubles and torments you, get Bisulphated Magnesia at once, and again enjoy the pleasure of care-free, painless digestion.

High Water May Halt Chicago River Project

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Prevailing high water levels in Lake Michigan are threatening to cost the city of Chicago over $150,000 on one project alone, according to Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe.

High water is likely to bring a halt in the gigantic engineering feat of straightening the Chicago river, now nearing completion, Wolfe says. The only alternative to halting the work is to award an extra $150,000 for construction of coffer dams by which the water can be lowered in the new channel.

Some Golf Etiquette Rules For Players Just Learning Game

With golf becoming as popular in New Castle as it is in an apartment house, the question of golf etiquette has been discussed on the streets. Many of the new players at the municipal golf course are unfamiliar with the courtesy rules of golf, which is not surprising, for before the average lad takes up golf he knows nothing at all about it.

Like any other sport, there are certain hard and fast rules concerning playing the game which must be observed. These are soon learned. The rules that may be unintentionally violated are the etiquette of the game. Observance of them by all players makes the game much pleasanter. Violation of them makes it miserable for everybody.

Shoot in Turn

One of the first rules of courtesy on the golf course is "shoot in your turn." The clean-up batter in a baseball game would not think of batting in the lead-off position, neither should a golfer shoot when his partner or opponent is away.

Shooting from the first tee is a matter of chance. Players drive in the order they themselves set, but after the first drive the player who is "away," that is, the farthest from the green, shoots first. For example, player number one drives 245 yards. Player number two drives 225 yards, number three drives 195 yards and number four drives 175 yards. Number four makes his second shot before the other three shoot. Number three follows him, number two and then number one.

On the green the same rule is observed. The player farthest from the cup shoots first and the last player to sink his ball takes all the balls out of the cup. It is a discourteous thing to shoot up onto the green and then before the other players are up to shoot. When a foursome gets away from the tee the foursome following them should wait until every one of the first foursome has played his second ball. There is nothing to be gained by shooting into the foursome ahead, except to generate ill feeling, because they will have to play out the hole before you can get to the green anyway. Far better to wait a few seconds longer on the tee than to take a chance of hitting somebody in the head.

Waiting Through

There will be times when you lose golf balls. Everybody loses them, even Bobby Jones, and when the course is full it is unfair to hold up the players back of you while you hunt for your ball.

There is a five-minute rule in effect which allows a player five minutes to hunt for his ball before losing his place. If you lose yours and none of your foursome finds it, wave the next foursome through. You will expect the same courtesy.

Once having waved a foursome through, do not try to regain your place, even though you suddenly find your ball. It is a disturbing thing to get set for a shot after having been waved through and then suddenly see a man ahead of you get set for his shot.

Talking, laughing, clattering bags or clubs, or making any noise while a player is shooting is bad form. Golf requires the highest concentration of nerves and muscle and to have to listen to some one explaining their favorite recipe for home brew is most disconcerting. When a player takes his stance to shoot everyone should be quiet. And while this is true for all shots from the tee to the green, it is especially important on the green.

A cough or sneeze, a laugh or a spoken word may throw a player off his putt and cost him a game. Bobby Jones lost a championship at Oakmont one time because one of the gallery laughed just as he was about to putt.

There are a few of the rules of golf etiquette. In Thursday's News this article will be continued. There is but one purpose in writing these articles, and that is to help the new player. Everybody wants to know the rules of the game, and if the writing of these articles helps the players on the municipal course, then the time and energy taken writing them is well spent.

Prayer In Congress

Rev. George G. Culbertson, associate minister of the New York Avenue Presbyterian church of the city of Washington, offered the following prayer:

We lift our prayer in thankfulness, O Lord, our God, for the manifold blessings of life—for the high ideals and heroism which moved our fathers in the founding of our government, for the wisdom of its conception, for its lofty purpose to guarantee to every citizen life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. Make us faithful servants of this people and of Thee, that life may indeed be fuller, liberty truer, and happiness more complete. To the honor and glory of Thy holy name. Amen.

When Food Sours

Sweeten the stomach—instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been overstimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know: Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

Pennsylvania Caves

BY R. W. STONE
Assistant State Geologist
Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs

The caverns in several nearby states are much advertised and many Pennsylvanians are attracted thereby. On the first day of September at one of them it seemed as if "four out of five" of the hundreds of cars parked before Pennsylvania licenses. This means a lot of money spent outside the state.

One need not go out of Pennsylvania to experience a trip underground. Probably a score of caves in Pennsylvania can be entered by anyone who wishes; nine have been equipped for comfortable entrance by the public and a fee is charged for admission. In order from east to west they are as follows:

Crescent Cave, located two and a half miles east of Virginville and five miles by road west of Kutztown, in Berks county. It was discovered in a quarry in limestone in 1871 and has been open to the public since 1873.

Onyx Cave, also in Berks county, is two and one-half miles west of Virginville and about three miles southwest of Hamburg. It also is in an old limestone quarry and was opened to the public May 20, 1923.

Indian Echo Cave is one mile south of Hummelstown in Dauphin county. The large entrance in the bluff of Swatara creek was discovered about the time Hummelstown was founded and for more than a century all the youngsters of the neighborhood have explored it. Cleaned out, paved and lighted, it was opened to the public May 13, 1920.

Sawara Cave, in Millin county, at the foot of Jacks Mountain, four miles north of Allentown and about 12 miles from Lewisburg, was discovered by boys on a treasure hunt in 1925 and was opened to the public in 1928.

Alexander Caverns, about 10 miles north of Lewisburg at Nagney, are only a few minutes drive from Reedsville and Milroy. A wet cave, accessible by boat, has been known for many years. Explorers discovered the dry cave in 1926 and it was opened to the public May 28, 1929, with a boat trip on the underground creek optional.

Penn's Cave, four and one-half miles northeast of Centre Hall, Centre county, is an underground watercourse wide open at one end and has been known since the earliest settlers entered the region. Before 1883 the miners charged admission, which is a boat. An artificial opening to a pond at the far end of the cave makes the boat ride about three-quarters of a mile long.

Woodward Cave, two miles from Woodward in the eastern end of Centre county, has been accessible in summer when Penn creek goes dry. In 1925, when it was diverted by digging another channel, making dry paths and installing lights then made the cave comfortable to view.

Historic Indian Cave, at Franklinville, Huntingdon county, is about seven miles north of the William Penn highway at Water Street. It was used by Indians as a shelter before 1700 and by white hunters and highwaymen in later years. It was opened for public entertainment June 13, 1929.

Hipple Cave, at Waterside, Bedford county, about 15 miles north of the Lincoln highway at Everett, is a natural opening that has long been accessible but was commercialized about 1925.

Limestone Deposits. All of the caves here mentioned are illuminated throughout with electric lights except Penn's Cave, which is shown by an acetylene headlight on the boat. All have "formations" of stalactites and stalagmites, some enormous, some not, but interesting, and the most natural caves were developed by solution. In limestone, which is relatively soluble, the effect of solution often is to make a cavity rather than merely to make the rock porous. When rock has dissolved along joints and bedding planes so that water can circulate through the openings, then erosion by the mechanical action of the water moving through the passages may aid in enlarging them. Some parts of Woodward Cave in particular look as if they had long been the course of flowing water.

The deposits of "formations" in limestone caverns are made of calcium carbonate or lime deposited from solution. Water passing through the soil becomes slightly acid, and on reaching the roof of a cavern may evaporate and deposit some of the lime carbonate around the edge of the drop. If this process continues long enough a stalactite is formed, much like the way icicles form on eaves. Water dripping on the floor also may deposit lime and build up stalagmites. It has been estimated that it takes about 120 years for a cubic inch of lime deposit to form in this way. Some of the deposits are like cascades on a rock shelf, some are like blankets suspended from the roof, and many are of such shape that they have been given fanciful names based on their resemblances to common objects.

All of the caves except Penn's, which is traversed only by boat, have clean, hard floors of cement, crushed stone or boards, and may be visited without fear of soiling one's clothes. All, however, are cool, the temperature being below 60 degrees Fahrenheit, and make overcoats or extra wraps desirable.

Largest Ones. The question as to which is the largest one may be answered by saying that the trip through the dry and wet cave at Alexander Caverns is believed to be the longest, all underground trip regularly offered to visitors. The boat trip underground in Penn's Cave is said to be about 1,550 feet one way, and the course taken by the guides through Woodward Cave is about 1,500 feet. The other caves are shorter, so far as developed, but Sawara and Historic Indian are known to be much more extensive than the part now shown to tourists.

Anyone who has never been in a cave will find much of interest in any of these in Pennsylvania. Alexander Caverns perhaps has the largest number of stalactites and stalagmites, and is considered by some to be the best cavern show in the state. Historic Indian Cave, the latest to be opened, has an added appeal in the fact that it is an Indian cave, with stalactites and other relics found in it and on display.

The Department of Internal Affairs, therefore, urges the traveling public to see Pennsylvania's caverns first.

(International News Service.)
CLEVELAND, Sept. 11.—The condition of Lady Mary Heath, famous English aviatrix, who was seriously injured when her airplane crashed through the roof of a factory here more than a week ago, was reported as "good" at Lakeside hospital Tuesday where she is being confined.

Hospital attaches stated that the woman flier is steadily improving and that she is slowly regaining complete eyesight. It was at first feared that Lady Heath had been permanently blinded as a result of injuries received in the crash.

Physicians stated, however, that Lady Heath will probably never be able to fly again.

The Englishwoman was injured when her ship crashed into the roof of a factory here shortly after she had taken off from the air field of the Great Lakes Air Craft Co., en route to the municipal airport to participate in the 1929 national air race contests, Thursday August 29.

unrivalled for smooth, sure, silent operation in any weather

To Buick, pioneer of four-wheel brakes, now falls the distinction of another major achievement in this same vital field: the development and introduction of Buick Controlled Servo Enclosed Brakes—the most effective four-wheel braking system ever devised for any automobile!

Buick's new brakes are of the highly efficient internal-expanding type. They are fully enclosed—fully protected against dust, dirt and water—and thus assure maximum braking effectiveness under all weather conditions.

They represent the highest development of the self-energizing principle, which makes the car's own motion provide part of the braking effort. They reveal unmatched responsiveness to the slightest pedal pressure. And they are so perfectly controlled that "grabbing" is entirely unknown! When you apply these brakes, you obtain the most positive, as well as the smoothest and most silent action you have ever experienced in any automobile!

LARGE INCREASE OF PUPILS IN CITY SCHOOLS, THIS YEAR

Superintendent Shows Count
Of 3,700 In Comparison
To 3,400 Of Last Year

Auditorium Is Badly Needed
As Study Hall, Is Plea
Of Supt. W. Ray
Smith

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 11.—At the regular monthly meeting of the board of education which took place Tuesday evening in their room in the Lincoln school building, an interesting report was given by Supt. W. Ray Smith, concerning the local attendance since the opening of the first part of the month. He stated that there is a large increase, and quoted 3,700 this year, against 3,400 of last year, with approximately 1272 pupils in the Lincoln building alone, and one-third of these are in study halls every minute of the day. He stressed the importance of finding the auditorium from the standpoint of pupils needing it for study, as well as it being in great demand for meetings.

The board voted favorably upon the request from the Girl Scout council for the use of rooms in the Lincoln building each week, beginning when the night watchman comes on duty. A request was made for the gym but was refused as that room will be in use each night of the week this winter.

Members of the athletic committee reported that the bleachers on the athletic field are badly in need of repair and the board authorized that body to take the necessary steps.

Some arrangement will be made with the city to provide a sidewalk of some kind for the 17 children from the north side who have been sent to the Irving Park school this year. The parents have been raising objections to their children using the Ellwood-New Castle highway, and arrangements will be made for them to use a cinder walk in the near future.

Dr. Evans was present in behalf of the football team and wished to know the desire of the board with regard to injuries received this season by the football players. Supt. Smith replied that the same releases which were used by the board last year are being prepared, relieving the board of any responsibility in connection with accidents. Hereupon the local doctors have donated their services free of charge to the boys, but Dr. Evans seemed to intimate last night that such would not be the case this year. A list of the doctors who will donate services will be made and given to the coach of the team, was the decision reached at last night's meeting.

Mrs. Magee, New President Of Club Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 11.—At the first fall meeting of the Ellwood City Woman's Club, which took place in the form of a luncheon at the Elks Club, Mrs. Thomas B. Magee, the new president, was ushered in with a charming mixture of formality and fun. There were about 50 present at a long table centered with clusters of garden flowers. Mrs. Eva Vosler and her committee served a delicious menu.

At the conclusion of the meal the entire assemblage sang the new club song to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne," composed by Mrs. Roland Haines and dedicated to Mrs. Magee, the new president. Mrs. Adele Eggers Furniss led and Mrs. Haines was at the piano.

Mrs. Thomas L. Haines, retiring president, gave a short address to her club members, thanking them for their co-operation during the past year. She was presented with a handsome gift on behalf of the club, with Mrs. John Hough reading an appropriate and original presentation poem.

The new president was introduced by Mrs. Thomas Wilson and presented with a bouquet of flowers. Mrs. Magee responded with a fine talk, stating her desires for future work and asking the co-operation of all associated with her. ## Women May Start Community Home Project Here

Idea Suggested And Sent To Women's Club Meeting
By Mrs. Earl Yahn
Of This City

Other Civic Clubs Will Be Asked To Join In This Worthy Project For Meeting House

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 11.—Quite one of the most important suggestions made at the first meeting of the Woman's club which took place Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Elks club was the idea of the Community Home sent by Mrs. Earl Yahn. Mrs. Yahn who has been confined to the hospital as the result of an accident suffered some time ago said in her letter that as she reclined in her bed with nothing to do the idea grew in her mind until she had to express it to the club members. It is a well known fact that local organizations are suffering from a lack of a place to meet.

Mrs. Yahn's idea was to buy some dwelling and refurbish it to meet the town's needs with a gym, a swimming pool and make it a general meeting place for young and old under the proper supervision.

Other civic clubs will be asked to aid in this project and a committee will be appointed from the Women's club to investigate the probability of having such a home. If it does nothing else than provide some place for the girls and boys of teen age to go in the evenings and afternoons in the summer time it will more than serve its purpose.

The meetings of the club will take place every two weeks in the Elks club. The new officers are President, Mrs. Thomas B. Magee; vice presidents, Mrs. E. J. Tommasson, Mrs. B. C. Barton and Mrs. Eva Vosler; recording secretary, Mrs. George B. Wilson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William Dean; treasurer, Mrs. Fred Krauth and directors, Mrs. C. M. Charles, Mrs. W. W. Davidson and Mrs. Thomas Haines.

Skit Makes Hit At Club Meeting Here

Original Skit On Woman's Club
By Mrs. Hough Is Cleverly Presented At Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 11.—At the first fall meeting of the Woman's club which took place Tuesday afternoon at the Elks club one of the ceremonies which were attendant upon installing the new officers was the original skit by Mrs. John Hough, entitled "The Reforming of the Backwoods Woman's Club."

One of the reasons for the success of the fun portion of the program was the chairman of the entertainment committee, Mrs. Catherine Charles, whose droll manner and subtle humor won the members before the cast of the skit even stroled in.

The story was of the little club whose members refuse to aid the new president, Mrs. Hopful and the secretary, a flighty creature, has sent the minutes of the last meeting to the drycleaners along with her spring suit. The treasurer's duties are simple for all she has to say is "The balance is the same as last month." But through the efforts of Mrs. Alert a new member from another city the club members are prodded into some semblance of life and vow to do their best by the club.

The skit was well done and highly entertaining. The characters who contributed to the fun were:

"Mrs. All-Worn Out," retiring president—Mrs. Berwick Barton.

"Mrs. Hopful," the new president—Mrs. F. L. Schweitzer.

"Mrs. Put-It-Off," secretary—Mrs. H. S. Geld.

"Mrs. Kindness"—Mrs. H. R. Smith.

"Mrs. Hard Worker"—Mrs. Mervin Haines.

The Story Of The World War
111—Increased Production And Conservation Of Food

SOON AFTER THE UNITED STATES ENTERED THE WORLD WAR, PRESIDENT WILSON PROCLAIMED THAT WE MUST NOT ONLY SUPPLY OURSELVES AND OUR FIGHTING MEN BUT A LARGE PART OF THE NATIONS WITH WHOM WE HAD MADE COMMON CAUSE. HE APPEALED TO THE FARMERS TO LEAVE NOTHING UNDONE THAT WOULD INCREASE THE YIELD OF THEIR LAND.

MEN OF ALL AGES, SCHOOLBOYS, BOY SCOUTS AND EVEN YOUNG WOMEN AND GIRLS VOLUNTEERED TO WORK ON THE FARMS WHERE LABOR WAS GREATLY IN DEMAND. HERBERT HOOVER WAS APPOINTED CHAIRMAN OF A BOARD TO FIX PRICES AND PREVENT "PROFITTEERING", AND ON MAY 23, 1917, BECAME FOOD ADMINISTRATOR.

WHILE FARMERS INCREASED THEIR ACREAGE OF WHEAT, CORN AND POTATOES, IN THE CITIES LAWNS AND VACANT LOTS WERE CONVERTED INTO VEGETABLE GARDENS, TILLED BY PATRIOTIC BOYS AND GIRLS. NOT ONLY INCREASED PRODUCTION BUT CONSERVATION AND ECONOMY WAS VITALLY NECESSARY TO SECURE A VAST SURPLUS OF FOOD TO EXPORT TO OUR ALLIES.

CO-OPERATING WITH THE U. S. FOOD ADMINISTRATION, LOYAL HOUSEWIVES OBSERVED CERTAIN DAYS AS "MEATLESS" AND "WHEATLESS" DAYS. THEY USED FISH, FRUITS AND VEGETABLES IN PLACE OF MEATS AND STARCHES, AND CANNED ALL SURPLUS PRODUCE. THIS GREAT CONSERVATION CRUSADE WAS TO FORESTALL THE DANGER OF A FOOD SHORTAGE.

Chicago Cubs Are Picked To Throttle Athletics In Series

Experts Agree That Macks Haven't Got Chance To Take World's Series Series This Year Will Be Good One Is Belief; Both Teams Have Glassy Hurlers

By DAVID J. WALSH Sports Editor International News Service

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Every body here has a hunch that the Chicago Cubs are going to be just a kick in the pants for the Athletics in the 1929 world series and may be they are right, although it is my impression that the last time everybody was right was the day after the Johnstown flood.

They agreed then that it looked like rain. Anyhow, this conspiracy of approval in the case of the Cubs may be more than significant, it may be downright ominous, and definitely Connie MacK has been so heartened by the circumstance that he may decide to play the series. After all he is a headstrong man about things like this. Besides, he has everything in his favor now.

Cubs Are Picked.

They have picked him to lose almost a month in advance of the series so he can't go wrong. If he loses he's right and if he wins they are wrong. This is a very amusing game when indulged in by players of experience, its fascination being due to the fact that nobody has a chance. However, where Connie has a read break is that he merely intends to play the world series, he is not trying to win it. History has proved that nobody can do that, particularly when they attempt to say what will happen a month before it can happen.

I know that some genius has discovered that the Cubs hit left handed and the Athletics pitched right handed, but I don't know whether it is a sinister scheme or what of it? The ball club that is right at the time that the series is played is the ball club that wins it, regardless of how many people may disagree with the victory.

Were the Cubs supposed to lose to the White Sox in 1907? They were not. Did they lose? They did. The Sox had great pitching and they hit in the pinches. They were run out, so were the Athletics against the Cubs in 1910. Although nobody outside of Philadelphia gave them a chance. The famous Brave-Athletic series of 1914 proved for all time just what a championship club would do with a great one when the great urge inspires it. I have always felt, too, that perhaps the Cincinnati Reds didn't need the commission of the Black Sox in the 1919 series.

Short-Enders Win.

The Sox were a great club and the Reds no better than merely good yet the latter might have won even if both of them were leveling. The Reds were thoroughly sold on themselves and that idea is always hard to beat.

Were the Senators the following year? Both were short enders and both won. So were the Cardinals when they beat the Yankees in 1926. Everybody knows what happened last year when the Cardinals, backed down to 1 to 2, lost four straight to the supposedly mighty Yankees.

The left handed angle this year is not conclusive. It merely is one thing in favor of the Cubs, a more or less important angle but not nearly so much so as psychology and any bet on the latter cannot be predicted. The latter cannot be predicted, but the psychology of a series can be and usually is. Everything else being equal, it rides with the club that has the most incentive to win and for a sincere, compelling urge, personally, I like the Cubs a bit at this juncture.

Largely, I admit, because of the left handed situation in Philadelphia. But even with this the Cubs are a good

Italians Trim Pennsy Team In Series Opener

Shields Hurls Great Game As Italians Get First Leg On Championship; Score 13-0

GAME STAGED UNDER PROTEST

By CHARLES LANDOLF

I. A. A. baseball team, winner of the second half of the Lawrence county league, defeated the P. R. R. nine, first half winner, in the first game of the series to determine the champions of Lawrence county. The game was played last night at Centennial field. The score was 13-0.

Diffey with a homer, Palus with a three-base swing and a single, Jones double and triple, combined with the excellent pitching of "Johnny" Shields who yielded the seventh warden but two break hits, were the outstanding stars of the game. After the first inning it was a bit and run affair for the winners, who appeared to hit at will.

Rodenbaugh Chased.

First Rodenbaugh was knocked off the mound in the initial chapter. Then Valley lasted an inning and a half. Hume was next chosen and he finished the game—which lasted six innings. The umpires called the game on account of darkness.

In the second inning the Italians scored six runs on singles by Diffey, Palus and Reidler, accompanied by triples by General and Jones. Shields hit a double in this chapter. The winners of the second half scored five more in the fourth inning. This time it was three singles, a double and a home run club by Diffey. The other two tallies were scored in the third chapter.

Never in Danger.

Shields was never in danger and had things his way. The only two bingles were registered by Huff and James. At the end of six innings, when the game was called, a controversy arose over the fact as to whether or not the game counted. It was agreed it was claimed, at the beginning that the game would not count if less than seven innings were played. The game was announced by the umpire as being played on a protest due to the fact that charges were made that Huff and Hume were ineligible to play.

Five games will be played to determine the winners and the next game will be played on Centennial field on Thursday night at 6 o'clock sharp. The summary:

Babe Ruth Hits Two More Homers

Babe Ruth Slams Out 43 And 44 At Expense Of Tigers On Tuesday Afternoon

By HENRY MOLENORE International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Perhaps Babe Ruth's plan to kick himself for having what he terms a poor home run year is a bit hasty.

For today's figures reveal that George Hearn, has forty-four of those things with quite a few more games to be played. Number 43 and 44 came yesterday in the double bill with Mr. Bucky Harris' Tigers, the latter number spoiling a perfect afternoon for the sometimes toothless Tigers. Having tucked away the first game, 8 to 4, Detroit was leading in the second 9 to 6 when the big man came up in the ninth. Larry and Combs being on base the score was tied before number 44 cut bounding. The Yanks went on to win 10 to 9. In addition Ruth's two homers were paired by Gehrig Alexander, Whitehill and Graham.

Philadelphia, following their 6 to 5 win over the Indians need only six more victories to assure participation in the world series. Had not run washed out, the second game the A's might be even closer to the pennant, glory and money.

Groves Win Two.

Colins and Coffman being in fine form, the St. Louis Browns took both ends of a twin bill from the Red Sox 6-1, 1-0. Collins allowed but four hits, Coffman six.

Chicago and Washington were washed out.

In the National—Larry Barton and Jack Scott were showing just what Cincinnati ordered so the Giants dropped their third game with the Reds 7 to 5.

Pittsburgh (rumored Brooklyn 7 to 6). Starting out as a pitchers' battle the game ended with both clubs hitting everything but the mascot.

Only two National games scheduled.

Report Campolo Offered Big Sum For Garden Bouts

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Pistonia was widely rocked today by charges of promoter Humbert J. Pugazy that officials of Madison Square Garden had offered $600,000 to Victorio Campolo for a series of four bouts.

Pugazy charges an attempt was being made to prevent the Campolo-Phil Scott bout here September 18 by enticing the South American boxer from him.

At the same time there were rumors of a Jack Sharkey-Campolo bout which may be promoted by the Garden. Tom McArdle, Garden matchmaker, said today he "was willing".

Campolo has already declared he would very much like to punch Sharkey's face.

FARMINGDALE, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The great all-around play of Herman Lamark, back of the undefeated 1928 yearling squad, has brought great joy to Coach Chick Meenan. In a 90-minute scrimmage, Lamark scored twice, his first tally coming after a 25-yard spin through the line.

Conacher Will Manage New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The New York Americans of the National Hockey league will be managed by Lionel Conacher, rated as one of the greatest defensive players in the loop. It was announced today by William V. Dwyer, president of the club. Dwyer stated Conacher would be a playing manager.

Reider Joins Pitt Football Squad At Training Quarters

Paul Reider of Albert street, former New Castle high school athlete, left the city yesterday for the University of Pittsburgh football training headquarters. Camp Windber, located some 100 miles from Pittsburgh towards Johnstown.

Reider will attempt to make a good showing in the Panther camp during the next few weeks.

Trainor And Preston In Championship Play

With half of the championship round played on the New Castle Field club golf course, George M. Trainor, a heavy favorite for the honor this year, has Roy P. Preston fire down. On Thursday afternoon the two will play the last 18 holes with the winner being crowned the club champion for the year 1929, and the loser taking the runner-up honors.

While Trainor is an odds-on favorite to win, Preston is worthy of considerable credit for his playing this year. He has not played golf very long but from the time he started he has come along well today he is listed among the best in the club.

His natural bent for athletics may be the answer for this. In high school he was one of the stars of his day in football, and in other lines of sport he has distinguished himself. To come through to the club finals in as short a time as he has been playing is an unusual thing, and no matter how the match terminates Thursday afternoon Preston has made a splendid showing this year.

The final 18 must be played off Thursday as George Trainor leaves after the round.

Belgian Champion To Fight Southpaw

Next Match To Be Staged At Jolly Bowl Has International Flavor

MOZDY TO BATTLE COLUMBUS FLYWEIGHT

Jolly Bowl will be the scene of a boxing match with an international flavor Monday night when Willie Michels, featherweight champion of Belgium, and Pat Mozdy, California, will meet in a ten round battle.

Michels came to America about a year ago, fought in the local featherweights, returned to Belgium for a visit and about a month ago returned to this country's management. As everyone knows, Wilson helped Carpenter and all the big men of Belgium round into condition.

Hearing that the Jolly Bowl was looking around for someone capable of exceeding Kosky, one of the best fighters in the east, Eddie Mack, manager of Michels, and Wilson, contacted for Michels to meet the champion here.

Former Earl Master, of the once great bantam champion, Joe Lynch, believed that should Michels win over Kosky it will give him another chance to fight with Earl Master, former featherweight contender for the championship.

Michels and Master fought one of the most round fights in Chicago. The Belgian punched so hard he forced Master and gave him a great fight. According to Tom Walsh, one of Chicago's leading fight promoters, Michels gave Master all he could handle.

Kosky fought Jackie Dugan here and won the fight. The decision was called a draw but it was one of those off color propositions and Mr. Kosky, as the winner in the eyes of the fans, has been looking for a fight.

The fight will cost Promoter Bill Jolly far above the ordinary run of fighters and the house will have to be filled up should he wish to make a couple of dimes on the attraction. Furnishing spotlights costs money and Bill is looking for a nice house.

The Belgian has engaged in 32 matches and of that number has knocked out nine opponents which proves that he can punch. He won 15 bouts, drew in five, fought no decision affairs and has lost only once by a knockout.

Kosky is the chap who has become the rage of the middleweight. Since winning from Dugan here he has tucked three other matches away in his list and according to reports from Chicago will be in fine fettle here.

Leo Mozdy, the Erie boy who got a start here and who won recently from Frisco Grande will take on Johnny Martin of Columbus in the semi-final. Romeo Facelli will box Tommy Libert of Cleveland. Young Murphy this city will take on Young Coby alias Simperton.

Izaak Walton League Convention Closes

(Associated Press Service)
WAYNESBURG, Pa., Sept. 11.—At the closing session of the Izaak Walton League annual convention, held here during the past few days, officers for the coming year were elected and it was decided to hold the next convention in Harrisburg. The date is to be left to the discretion of the Harrisburg Chapter.

Dr. William H. Moore, of Philadelphia, pronounced the convention the most interesting ever held in the state. It went on record as favoring a change in the trout laws which would reduce the daily limit catch to 15, instead of 25. The illegal

That old straw hat of yours may look to have a lot of mileage in it, but you can lay it away next Sunday. The dictates of style whoever sets them tell you and me that the straw kelly goes to the barn on September 15 and that's that.

Ours not to reason why, ours to buy and buy, Sennets and panamas to the rear, fedoras and derbies to the fore. And with all this noise, whether it does seem a shame that a fellow can't get a couple more weeks out of that straw topper that has stood him in good stead since last May.

But you know how it is. September 15 is the going for straws and while you can wear your straw after that if you care to you can also wear pet top trousers if you wish. Both of them are declassé.

One of the classics that De Wolf Hopper has recited for a quarter of a century is "Casey At The Bat." You remember the old classic, "things looked extremely rocky for the Mudville Nine that day. The score stood four to two with but an inning left to play" and on through to the close-

TO MAKE THE MOST OF TOMATOES

Try This New Recipe by a Famous Woman Cooking Expert

Cut tomatoes in halves—as many as you wish to bake. Arrange on a greased pie plate. Sprinkle each tomato with minced onion, salt and pepper. Dot with butter and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) about 15 minutes, until brown on top.

Notice the "sprinkle with sugar." It has been rediscovered that a dash of sugar is the secret of delicious vegetable cookery. This old secret was lost until four cooking experts rediscovered it recently. Cook vegetables in little water and add a dash of sugar while they are cooking. It does not make the vegetables taste sweet. But it makes them taste better than any vegetable foods you probably have ever tasted. A dash of sugar develops and builds up the delicate enjoyable vegetable flavors. The results will surprise you.

See that the children and adults in your family eat enough milk, vegetables and fruits. These are rated by scientists as the three basic foods. Use a little sugar to make delicious milk desserts, and milk drinks such as milk shake and egg-nog. Sprinkle sugar on corn flakes. Use sugar in stewed fruits. Convince yourself now of the wonders of sugar in cooking vegetables.

Hundreds of thousands of children—many doubtless in prosperous families—are suffering from under-nourishment. Use sugar flavor to promote enjoyable, healthful eating. Good food promotes good health. The Sugar Institute.

length would be moved from 6 inches to 7. The convention also passed a resolution asking the state waterways commission to study the system in Germany by which the refuse from paper and pulp mills are disposed. A report back to the department at Harrisburg on this matter was asked.

ing line. "but there is no joy in Mudville, mighty Casey has struck out.

The Mighty Casey had a couple of imitators Tuesday night when The News team played the Phalanx team in a baseball contest Vance Burkholder of The News team pulled Casey, but Vance plays on our side so we'll say nothing about it.

But Bruce Ewing! Bruce works for The News and plays baseball against him, which sounds like treachery aboard the ship. Bruce was at bat for the Phalanx. Three on base, and two down and a hit meant a couple of runs. Back in the spectators could be heard the sighs of lovely maidens as Bruce strode manfully to the plate.

He struck at it once and missed and then hit it in the same place again. Two strikes and the runners pleading for just one little bingle. Fear clutches the swan like throats of the fair young followers of Ewing. Up floats another ball and with grim determination Ewing swung. Had he hit the ball it would have travelled on into Neshannock township. As it was the breeze of his swing blew the hat off a citizen standing nearby. Out like a lamp.

New the Phalanx team is wondering if Ewing really struck out or else?

Gradually the horseshoe pitchers are starting some city wide contests and a hot one was staged last night on the Laurel Boulevard court with the Mahoningtown team playing against Laurel Boulevard. The suspicion that the Laurel lads could toss a flock of mean shoes was borne out when they defeated their neighbors from the Seventh ward by a total of 208 to 104 points.

The Laurel Boulevard boys had 71 fingers and the Mahoningtown pitchers 35. For Mahoningtown, Settle and Shepherd, for Laurel, Byers and Kelso.
